State of Arkansas Tax Structure Summary

Arkansas Freeport Law

Arkansas' Freeport Law applies to finished inventories maintained by manufacturers within the state and to goods stored in warehouses in transit to destinations outside the state.

Also covered in this tax exemption are goods that are moving through the state and may be stored in a warehouse, dock, etc., which are in transit to a destination outside of Arkansas.

Act 269 of 1969 states: "Tangible personal property in transit for a destination within this State shall be assessed only in the taxing district of its destination. Tangible personal property in transit through this State and tangible personal property manufactured, processed or refined in this State and stored for shipment outside the State shall, for purposes of ad valorem taxation, acquire no situs in the State and shall not be assessed for taxation in this State."

A unique feature of Act 269 of 1969 is that goods that are manufactured in this state and then stored in a warehouse prior to distribution to points outside the state are not assessed for taxation in Arkansas.

Property Tax

The State of Arkansas does not have a property tax. However, Arkansas cities and counties do collect property tax, which is the principle local source of revenue for funding public schools. The tax is calculated based on 20% of the market value of real and personal property and the average annual value of merchants' stocks and/or manufacturers' inventories based on millage rates in individual school districts. Business firms and individuals are subject to annual property tax on all real and personal property.

Payment in Lieu of Property Taxes (PILOT)

Real and personal property financed by revenue bonds and general obligation bonds may be exempt from property taxes during the lease-amortization period in which a local government retains title to a property. Payments by businesses to local governments in lieu of property taxes are generally encouraged and negotiated between the locality and the company.

The negotiated PILOT shall not be less than 35% of the property taxes that would have been paid if the property were on the tax rolls, unless a lesser amount is approved by the Executive Director of the Arkansas Economic Development Commission and the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State of Arkansas.

Sales and Use Tax

The Arkansas sales tax is 6.5% of the gross receipts from the sales of tangible personal property and certain selected services. "Sale" includes the lease or rental of tangible personal property.

Taxable services include sales of gas, water, electricity, most solid waste disposal, telephone and prepaid telecommunications and repair services. Repair and replacement parts for manufacturing machinery are generally taxable. However, one percentage point of sales and use taxes may be refunded for purchases of machinery and equipment or replacement parts purchased to modify, replace, or repair manufacturing machinery and equipment. Additional discretionary refunds are available through AEDC's Replacement and Repair of Manufacturing Machinery and Equipment Sales and Use Tax Refund Program.

The Arkansas compensating use tax of 6.5% is levied on tangible personal property purchased from outside the state of Arkansas for use, storage or consumption within the state of Arkansas.

Local Sales and Use Taxes

In addition to the state sales and use tax, local sales use taxes may be levied by each city or county. However, businesses may apply to the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration for a refund of local taxes. "Single transaction" means any sale of tangible personal property or taxable service reflected in a single invoice, receipt or statement for which an aggregate sales or use tax amount has been reported or remitted to the state for a single, local taxing jurisdiction. These taxes are collected by the state and distributed to the cities and counties each month

Unemployment Insurance Tax

New Businesses

Taxable wage base = $7,000

Rate = 3.1%

A business with no previous employment record in Arkansas is taxed at 3.1% on the first $7,000 of each employee's earnings until an employment record is established, usually within three years.

Existing Arkansas Businesses

Rate = 0.1% - 14.0%

Each business's employment record is determined primarily by its taxable payroll and history of employee voluntary termination. The tax is determined by past experience and the amount of the reserve ratio. The reserve ratio is the excess of contributions paid over benefits charged as related to payroll. The higher the reserve-ratio, the lower the tax rate.

Equity Investment Tax Credit (EITC) Program FAQ

What is the process for getting approved under the EITC Program?

The applicant first fills out an application and returns it to AEDC. AEDC reviews the application for compliance with program requirements. AEDC and the Arkansas Department of Finance Authority (ADFA) arrange an in-person, "investor pitch" type of meeting to allow the applicant, AEDC, and ADFA the ability to have an interactive dialogue about the project. At that point, AEDC and ADFA decide if the company and its project should be offered this incentive. This is a discretionary incentive, so approval is based on more than meeting minimum requirements.

Who receives the credit when it is issued?

The credits are issued to investors in the company and are designed to help the company attract the investment under terms and conditions not available without the incentive provided by the credit.

Is the credit transferable, and how many times can the credit be sold/transferred?

The credit can be sold only once and must be sold within one year of its issuance. Otherwise, it can only be used to offset State of Arkansas income tax liability.

How many times can I apply for approval under this incentive program?

There is no restriction on how many times a potential applicant may apply, but AEDC will review a "re-applicant's" performance level against the projections it previously provided when it first received approval.
